

REFLECTION

Instructions:

Using the topics discussed in Navigating the Road to Reconciliation: A Guide on Indigenous Ethics, reflect on how these concepts may or may not show up in self, work and in your community. We will unpack both the reflection chart and questions during the upcoming generative dialogue session to further understand the course material.

ETHICAL SPACE	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
PARALLEL PATHS	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
TWO-EYED SEEING	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
JAGGED WORLDVIEWS COLLIDING	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
4 R’S OF INDIGENOUS RELATIONSHIPS	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
HUMILITY	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
TRUTH	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
RESPECT	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
COLLECTIVE	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION
OTHER	SELF	WORK	INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

Optional Notes:

REFLECTION

Instructions:

In preparation for the From Reflection to Action: A Generative Dialogue on Incorporating Indigenous Teachings into International Cooperation session, reflect on the following:

- Think about how maintaining accountability to relationships rather than just transactions can impact international cooperation. What strategies can you employ to foster trust and long-term relationships with global partners?
- What role does the International Cooperation sector have in conducting work aligned with Indigenous ethics?
- How do the values of respect and humility shape your interactions with people from diverse cultural backgrounds, including Indigenous communities worldwide? How can you facilitate cross-cultural exchanges that promote understanding and respect for Indigenous traditions, practices, and processes globally?

We will unpack both the reflection chart and questions during the upcoming generative dialogue session to further understand the course material.

Optional Notes:

sarah@jackknifeconsulting.com

www.jackknifeconsulting.com

